The Greater Mass of the Scarlet Church

CONCERNING THE TEMPLE

East is determined as the direction facing Boleskine House, on the Southeastern shore of Loch Ness. All other directions are marked accordingly.

In the Easternmost part of the Temple is the 93 Altar, which is draped, bearing the Stele of Revealing, 5 candles of the appropriate color, Holy Incense (not yet lit), Holy Oil, and Athame.

In the middle of the Temple is the Altar of the Law, also draped, bearing the Book of the Law (as yet closed), 4 candles of the appropriate color, and a place for the Paten (with Cakes) and Chalice (with Wine), when they are brought out of the Sanctuary of Kings.

In the Westernmost portion of the Temple is the 39 Altar, also draped, bearing the Icon of Al-Lam, 2 candles, one black and one white, and Parchment beautifully inscribed with the Words of the Mantra of Al-Lam (Abrahamadabra Lashtal Thelema La-Set-El Abramalantraha Al-Lam), as well as a Censer.

In the Northernmost part of the Temple is an Image of Our Lady Babalon, and an Icon of the Moon above that.

In the Southernmost part of the Temple is an Image of Our Lord the Beast, and an Icon of the Sun above that. Also, a Seat for the Priest.

In the East, Candles and Holy Oil and Athame are before the Priestess, who is seated upon the Altar, and behind and above Her the Stele of Revealing is exhibited. The Incense is as yet unlit. There are seats in the Southwest (for males) and more seats in the Northwest (for females), as needed for the congregation.

CONCERNING THE CELEBRANTS

THE PRIESTESS. She is robed, adorned with headdress and jewels, and enthroned in the East. Beneath Her robe, She is nude.

THE PRIEST. He is robed, adorned with headdress and lamen, and kneels in the West, facing the Icon of Al-Lam, and chants the Mantram of Al-Lam 11 times, starting after the Priestess strikes the Bell 11 times, summoning Her Consort. He wields the Wand.

THE DEACON. He or She bears the Book of the Law in the right hand, and the Thurible of Incense (already lit) in the left. He or She is robed and positioned standing in the Southeast. (If there is no Deacon available, then the Priest, at the appropriate time, fills this role.)

ASSISTANTS. There are two of these, faces painted, one in black robe, bearing the veiled Chalice, the other in white robe, bearing the veiled Paten of Holy Cakes. They stand side-by-side in the Northeast. (If there are none to serve in this capacity, the Priest keeps the Paten in the West until the appropriate time, and the Priestess keeps the Chalice until the appropriate time.)

DOORKEEPER. If available, He or She wears black, is masked, and bears a Sword.

THE OPENING CEREMONY & CREED

THE PRIESTESS strikes upon the Bell 11 times, in a pattern thus: 4-3-4.

THE PRIEST rises out of His Al-Lamic Mantram (Abrahamadabra Lashtal Thelema La-Set-El Abramalantraha Al-Lam), and advances to the Central Altar, sets Wand upon the Altar.

Priest (Sign of Contemplation): HAGIOS HAGIOS HAGIOS. CHAIRE BABALON. CHAIRE THERION. IN NOMINE AIWASS. AUM HA.

THE PRIEST replaces the Wand upon the Altar.

THE LUNAR LITANY

Priest: In Force & Fire let us invoke the Life in the Moon!

THE PRIESTESS strikes the Bell 1-9-1.

THE PRIEST advances to the East, kneels before the Priestess, kisses Her bare feet, and says:

Priest: H KOKKINE GYNE.

Priestess: TO MEGA THERION.

THE PRIESTESS ignites the Holy Incense, muttering: Accendat in nobis, Therion ignem sui amoris et flammam aeternae caritatis.

[“Let the Beast kindle in us the fire of his love, and the flame of eternal charity.”]

Priestess: This is the Cremation of the Word of the Aeon, which we commemorate in this place as a Sign of the Great Release of Aeonic Energy that occurred upon His death, for which we are therefore glad, that the Portals were thereby unlocked, and later opened. ALLAM AIWASS.

THE PRIESTESS next uses the Incense to trace three encircled crosses over the kneeling Priest.

THE PRIESTESS now anoints the Priest upon the forehead with Holy Oil, tracing an encircled cross therewith. While She is so doing, He mutters: Asperge me, Therion, hysoppo et mundabor; lavabis me, et super nivem dealbabor.

[“Asperge me, O Therion, with hyssop; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.”]

Priestess:

Saith of Mentu the truth-telling brother
Who was master of Thebes from his birth:
O heart of me, heart of my mother!
O heart which I had upon earth!
Stand not thou up against me a witness!
Oppose me not, judge, in my quest!
Accuse me not now of unfitness
Before the Great God, the dread Lord of the West!
For I fastened the one to the other
With a spell for their mystical girth,
The earth and the wonderful West,

When I flourished, o earth, on thy breast!

The dead man Ankh-f-n-khonsu
Saith with his voice of truth and calm:
O thou that hast a single arm!
O thou that glitterest in the moon!
I weave thee in the spinning charm;
I lure thee with the billowy tune.

The dead man Ankh-f-n-khonsu
Hath parted from the darkling crowds,
Hath joined the dwellers of the light,
Opening Duaut, the star-abodes,
Their keys receiving.
The dead man Ankh-f-n-khonsu
Hath made his passage into night,
His pleasure on the earth to do
Among the living.

People: AUM HA.

THE PRIESTESS now invokes the Moon, using an Invocation of Her own devising, based on the Phase of the Moon, accordingly:

Waxing: This is, as in the Ancient Roman Calendar, the first of the Phases, starting at the first appearance of the Crescent, during which time the Priestess should devise an Invocation around the Maiden.

Full: This is the time when the Priestess should invoke the Great Mother Goddess.

Waning: This is when She should invoke the Warrior-Queen.

New: This is the time for Invocation of the Succubus.

Once the Invocation is complete, the Priest may rise and return to the Central Altar, facing East.

THE ANTIPHON

Priest (arms outstretched, palms up): O Nuit, continuous one of Heaven, let it be ever thus; that men speak not of Thee as One but as None; and let them speak not of thee at all, since thou art continuous.

People: Our Lady be upon us.

Priestess: None, breathed the light, faint & faery, of the stars, and two. For I am divided for love's sake, for the chance of union. This is the creation of the world, that the pain of division is as nothing, and the joy of dissolution all. For these fools of men and their woes care not thou at all! They feel little; what is, is balanced by weak joys; but ye are my chosen ones.

Priest: The word of the Law is THELEMA. Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law. There is no law beyond Do what thou wilt.

People: Our Lord the Beast be with us.

Priestess: Love is the law, love under will.

People: Lady & Lord, be all over us.

Priest: I am the secret Serpent coiled about to spring: in my coiling there is joy. If I lift up my head, I and my Nuit are one. If I droop down mine head, and shoot forth venom, then is rapture of the earth, and I and the earth are one.

People: Our Lord the Beast.

Priestess: To Me! To Me! Sing the rapturous love-song unto Me!

Priest: Yours is the dominion, the kingdom, the power, and the glory of Woman and Beast and the Holy Spirit AIWASS, now and forever and to the Aeons.

People: AUM HA.

THE PRIEST genuflects, adores, and resumes again His seat in the South.

MUSIC.

THE ENTRANCE

(The DEACON, carrying the Book of the Law & Thurible, comes in procession before the Icon of Al-Lam, music continues to play, and does not cease until He or She has drawn three crosses and circles over the Icon and proceeds to the Central Altar, placing the closed Book of the Law there upon the Altar.)

MUSIC ends.

THE PRIEST returns to His Station at the Central Altar.

Priest: Blessed is the Epiphany of Thelemic Catholic Saints always, now and forever and to the Aeons. AUM HA.

He raises the Book of the Law, holds it open (randomly) high above His head, facing out away from Him, turns to face the West, exhibits the Book, then turns back facing East, exhibits the Book, and finally places it open upon the Central Altar, kisses it thrice, and genuflects. He takes the Wand and holds it to His breast.

Priest: Wisdom. Let us be attentive.

Priestess: Understanding. Let us beware.

THE PRIEST points His Wand to a random Verse, and reads aloud the Verse.

MUSIC.

THE OPENING OF THE 93 PORTAL

MUSIC stops.

THE PRIEST sets the Wand upon the Altar, and goes to the East.

Priest: A KA DUA, TUF UR BI'U, BI A'A CHEFU, DUDU NUR AF AN NUTERU.

Aiwaz! confirm my troth with Thee! my will inspire
With secret sperm of subtle, free, creating Fire!
Mould thou my very flesh as Thine, renew my birth
In childhood merry as divine, enchanted Earth!
Dissolve my rapture in Thine own, a sacred slaughter Whereby to capture and atone the Soul of Water! Fill thou my mind with gleaming Thought intense and rare To One refined, outfiung to Naught, the Word of Air! Most, bridal bound, my quintessential Form thus freeing From self, be found one Selfhood blent in Spirit-Being

MUSIC.

THE PRIEST goes to the West, faces the Icon of Al-
Lam.

THE OPENING OF THE 39 PORTAL

MUSIC stops.

THE PRIEST burns Incense in the Censer.

Priest (arms outstretched, palms up): Al-LAM,
AL-LAM, AL-LAM, AL-LAM.

People: AUM HA.

Priest:

THE PRESENTATION OF SACRAMENTS

THE ASSISTANTS leave their stations, taking the Paten & Chalice to the Priestess, who unveils them both as she unveils Herself, disrobing upon the Altar.

Priestess: I am the blue-lidded daughter of Sunset; I am the naked brilliance of the voluptuous night-sky. To me! To me! Manifestation of the Goddess of Infinite Heaven!

THE ASSISTANTS return.

Priestess: Eat ye rich foods and drink sweet wines and wines that foam! Also, take your fill and will of love as ye will, when, where and with whom ye will! But always unto me.

Priest: The Beast stirs the hearts of men with drunkenness. To worship, we take wine and strange drugs, & are drunk thereof.

People: AUM HA.

Priest: 93 be with ye all.

People: 93 be with thee.

Priestess: Blessed be.

THE PRIEST returns to the Eastern Altar, and kneels before the Priestess.

THE PRIEST fills the Chalice and offers it to the Priestess, who, holding Athame between palms, places point in Chalice.

Priest: The Athame is the Male, the Chalice is the Female, and conjoined they bring AIWASS.

THE PRIESTESS lays Athame aside.

THE PRIEST sets down the Chalice, and casts out His arms, palms down, in the Sign of Benediction, and utters the words of Consecration:

H KOKKINE GYNE
THE SCARLET WOMAN
TO MEGA THERION
THE GREAT BEAST

And finally He recites the Epiklesis:

Let descend the Holy Spirit of BABALON & BEAST upon these Sacraments, to make the Wine the Blood of the Fertility of Her Womb, and to make the Bread the Seed of His Strength.
